

The End

Verse 1

Through the forest i am running through the darkness i am fighting and wondering about what i've done who was this dead man lying next to me in this house that i never had seen before i just don't understand all this shit

Chorus

It's the end of everything
and everyone and all that i had?
It's the end of everything and everyone...

Verse 2

Who am I, a murderer? A victim?
What is real life and what is just fiction?
Who can answer all this questions,
that are aiching me?
Should i go home and call the police or go back to this house to this horrible place?
Who will believe me
and who is already hunting me?

Chorus

It's the end of everything
and everyone and all that i had?
It's the end of everything and everyone

Ending

Find me, help me
Help me out of this dream cause i can't stand this pain anymore
